DETAILED ACTION

Applicants' amendment filed 9-2-03 has been entered. Claims 13 and 14 have been canceled. Claims 1, 3-6, 9-11 and 15-23 are pending and claims 20-23 are under consideration.

1. This application contains claims 1, 3-6, 9-11 and 15-19 drawn to an invention nonelected with traverse in Paper No. 12. A complete reply to the final rejection must include cancellation of nonelected claims or other appropriate action (37 CFR 1.144) See MPEP § 821.01.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

2. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(a) the invention was known or used by others in this country, or patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country, before the invention thereof by the applicant for a patent.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

3. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negatived by the manner in which the invention was made.

4. Claims 20-23 remain rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(a) as anticipated by or, in the alternative, under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as obvious over Chen et al., WO 99/54738.

Applicants argue that Chen does not teach that a polypeptide comprising SEQ ID No. 176 or any portion thereof can stimulate T cells and Chen does not teach an immunogenic composition comprising the polypeptide and an adjuvant that induces a predominately Th1-type response (amendment, p. 13-14). This is not found persuasive because of the reasons set forth in the preceding Official action mailed 5-1-03. Chen teaches a composition comprising the cancer associated antigens, CT7, KOC-2 and KOC-3, and a pharmaceutically acceptable adjuvant, and related cancer associated protein KOC-1. Chen also teaches that each of those antigens provides antibodies when expressed in a subject. Since KOC-1 has amino acid sequence that is 100% identical to SEQ ID No. 176 and KOC-1, which is encompassed by the claimed polypeptides, is a cancer associated antigen, one of ordinary skill in the art at the time of the invention would be motivated to combine KOC-1 polypeptide with an adjuvant to induce immune response for the production of antibody as taught by Chen with reasonable expectation of success. Further, since KOC-1 has amino acid sequence that is 100% identical to SEQ ID No. 176, it is inherent for KOC-1 to induce a predominantly Th1-type response. Therefore, claims 20-23 remain rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(a) as anticipated by or, in the alternative, under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as obvious over Chen.

Conclusion

No claim is allowed.

5. THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
